APPENDICES.

MADDAGIRI DISPENSARY.

This is one of our best Taluk Dispensaries. The Hospital Assistant in charge, Dharmalinga Mudaliar, has done much to popularize English treatment here. The attendance is exceptionally good.

Camp Maddagiri, 2nd March 1903.

THE DISPENSARY AT SIDLAGHATTA.

Inspected this dispensary yesterday morning. The average attendance is good and the Hospital Assistant is popular. I understand that he gives special attention to plague patients both at his head-quarters and in outlying villages. The instruments are kept clean and the stock of medicine is ample.

Camp Srinivaspur, 7th March 1903.

THE DISPENSARY AT CHINTAMANI.

I visited this dispensary last evening and found everything in good order. The Hospital Assistant seems popular and in spite of prejudices against English treatment he has been trying to popularize it. The attendance is fair. The midwife attached to this dispensary is appreciated and is in much request both in the town and in the villages of the taluk.

Camp Srinivaspur, 7th March 1903.

THE DISPENSARY, SRINIVASPUR.

I visited this dispensary on the evening of the 7th instant and found everything tidy and clean. The Hospital Assistant (Guru Rao) takes interest in his work and is popular. The attendance is somewhat small but this is due to causes over which he has no control.

BOWRINGPET DISPENSARY.

I inspected the dispensary this morning and found everything tidy and clean. The Hospital Assistant is efficient and popular, and the attendance therefore is much above the average. There is a good stock of medicines in the dispensary, and the instruments are complete and clean. The Hospital Assistant seems to have treated, both here and in some villages in the taluk, several cases of plague with success. There are no cases now pending in the Plague Camp.

Camp Bowringpet, 9th March 1903.

C. SREENIVASIENGAR,

2nd. Councillor's remarks on the several Dispensaries visited by him when on tour.

Kunigal Dispensary:-

" The Dispensary rooms and instruments seem to
" require better looking after and to this I directed
" the Hospital Assistant's attention. The attendance
" is fair being about 40 a day".

Maddagiri Dispensary:-

" This is a good Dispensary and it is in charge of an " excellent officer. The midwife attached to this
" taluk though efficient and popular seems to have
" suffered in pay by the recent order of Govt. laying
" down different rates of salaries for midwives
" employed in the maidan and malnad parts of the State
" It is a question for the consideration of the Senior
" Surgeon whether this midwife could not be accorded
" exceptional treatment. Unlike certain other
" Dispensaries I have visited, this Dispensary has
" in-patient wards not detached from the main building.
" This therefore is not a place in which effect could
" conveniently be given to the proposal to utilise the
" in-patient wards as Hospital Assistant's quarters".

Kolar Civil Hospital:-

" x x x x x x x x x x
" the Dispensary where everything was in excellent
" order under the management of Assistant Surgeon Mr.
" Ranganna, who is as zealous as he is popular, ....."
